BE AN ISI CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE

Many students who have benefited from ISI membership ask how they can help publicize ISI among their peers. ISI relies entirely on personal, word-of-mouth "advertising" to introduce the Institute's publications and other program materials to new students and professors. Thus, the growth and maintenance of ISI's membership depends wholly on the efforts of interested individuals. The ISI Campus Representative Program has been developed as a highly effective way in which an individual student or professor can inform others on his campus about ISI.

As an ISI Campus Representative you will be provided with posters, brochures, copies of The Intercollegiate Review, IR Reprints, and other ISI materials. Your name will be placed on a special mailing list informing you of new materials as they become available and suggesting new ways to increase ISI's impact on your campus.

You will receive from time to time special books and pamphlets for your personal library as a token of ISI's appreciation, as well as special consideration for acceptance to ISI Summer Schools.

If you are interested in assisting in this way and would like more information on becoming a "Campus Rep," please complete the coupon below or send us a post card request.
